DESCRIPTION

The Neil Robertson Stretcher is the trusted solution for safe and efficient evacuations in challenging environments. Specifically designed for rescue operations in confined spaces like ships, mines, or rugged terrain, this stretcher offers maximum stability and comfort. Made from spliced, ram-in slats with a tough, rot-proof cotton exterior, it ensures durability in the toughest conditions. The casualty is securely held in place with buckled cotton straps and regularly spaced eyelets, providing optimal safety. Durable manilla support ropes enhance rescuer confidence and resist chaffing, making it the perfect choice for emergency services, maritime operations, and industrial use.

Safety load:

Horizontal 120 kg.

Vertical 120 kg.
