DESCRIPTION

Breathing air compressor Coltri Icon LSE 100 ET 440 V / 50 Hz

Part of the Icon LSE series are the most widely used portable compressors in the world. By virtue of their small size and low weight, the models are perfect for very different needs: high-pressure breathing air for the diving world, recreational activities, fire services and paintball facilities. Models are available with gasoline or electric motors, either three-phase or single-phase, and are equipped with the GP 100 pumping unit. Standard equipment includes a hose filling connection with operating pressures from 232 to 330 bar. The user experience is highly customizable with the various available options such as pressure maintenance valve, automatic condensate drain, and autostop.

Standard equipment
